

le trinocle à bascule

A high and round silhouette rolls along and sways in the streets. Overhanging the onlookers, here is the nonchalant passing by.

This gentle trinocle is a very curious three-eyed giant with panoramic vision.

But the animal is impish and doesn't mind extending the pleasure of a meeting to the point of becoming indiscreet.

Embarrassed by animal's shamelessness, the four mahouts will attempt the impossible to divert his attention.

The unfortunates will dance laughable little steps to the sound of some probably ethnic music to prompt the creature to stroll again.

concretely

Four puppeteers lead, push and pull an inflated giant creature set on a rolling wagon equipped with a rocking system.

Four actors with personal sound-system devices and voice distortion. They sing and chant in an invented language and mix live their own musical creations.

They are long-distance runners as well as street dance performers.
